According to Monroe County Fair Manager Glenn F. Stock, who arranged and oversaw the weekend move, Little Smokey will be put on display at this year's August fair, and will be operative during next year's event.

A host of volunteer workers, 35 in all, six 40-foot semis, lift trucks and other related dismantling and moving equipment were used to move the passenger line in just two days, leaving behind only the depot, known popularly as "Barkley's Junction", and a barn, which were not included in the sale.

Stock said all the workers were connected in some manner or another with the fair, either as board members or supporters. Monroe County implement dealers provided the See New Home on Page 6

From Our Corner ...

It's that time again for the annual school election-to vote for trustees for the Board of Education and the question of whether the electorate will approve the millage so the Board is able to operate the school system for another year.

This year the board is asking for only a renewal from last year, 17.9 mills. According to officials, this is holding the line to the bear necessities to operate the Crawford-AuSable School System for the 1980-81 school year.

It really is a shame that each and every year the school board has to come before the voters and ask them for money so that they can give a proper education to the youth of Crawford County.

It's not only here in our county, but all over the state that each year the question arises like the monster of the deep...are you, the taxpaver, willing to pay for the education of this generation as those before you paid for yours?

This is a decision that no one can tell you how you should decide...it is a decision of sacrifice for many, more so for those on fixed incomes...

The Board of Education is asking only for what it received last year to operate the schools after three elections to decide the miliage, which was an extra cost to the electorate. We urge a Yes vote in order that the school administration will be able to go on with their planning for the next school year without having to wait for another millage vote...

There is a contest this year for one vacancy on the board of education...Kathleen Burkley, incumbent, is being opposed by Sherry Hanson for the four year term on the board.

Being a small town we have never came out and backed any individual for office...we feel most people know them or are able to find out about leach one...we do however, take stands on amendments or millage votes...

On helping out schools we have never voted against a millage Michigan State U. arrived of customers and wishing proposal, and do not intend to this year...all we ask of the voters is to exercise your precious privilege that you have and cast your Memorial Day with her ballot, Monday, June 9th...

The following quote appeared in the June-July/80 issue of Good Housekeeping's COUNTRY LIVING ALMANAC, "Deposits indicate the bow and arrow were in use about 46,000 B.C., just a little 'while before Fred Bear got into it for a hobby''...our thanks to 'Marian Welsh for stopping by last week to share it with us.

We heard a dilly over the weekend...For the life of us we can not understand the folly that goes on down in Lansing and in Washington when it comes to legislation coming out of our elected officials...it is no wonder there is the saying...we don't have to worry about the Russians using the atom bomb on us...in due time our legislators will bury us all...

Dateline Lansing: Governor Milliken orders the state police to ticket anyone traveling over 55 miles per hour...except the legislators and senators...hands off, they are apparently immune from their own legislation...

Dateline Washington: President Carter opens the gates to approximately 80,000 Cubans of all types into our country from a Russian satellite country...now we have them out side our border as well as in...good old Uncle Sam has been the melting pot of so many...Carter must think we have to melt some more...this time we are afraid it is going to be a lot different, already they are having problems at Camp Chaffee, the service isn't like the Waldorf-Astoria...

The following is the first two paragraphs we received this morning from DAV News (Disabled American Veterans)...

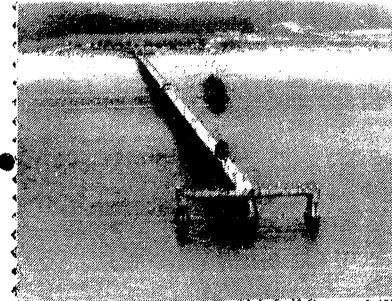

Washington, D.C.—A White House directive which authorizes Cuban refugees to occupy beds at the Veterans Administration (VA) medical center in Tampa, Fla., while sick and disabled ex-GI's are being denied treatment, has drawn outraged criticism from the 670,000-member Disabled American Veterans (DAV).

The Carter Administration has ordered the Tampa VA medical center to reserve 40 hospital beds for ailing Cuban refugees. The VA medical center in Gainesville, Fla., has been told to reserve 50 medical and surgical beds for this purpose. On Monday, while 13 Cuban refugees were occupying beds on the Tampa VA facility's psychiatric wards, two American veterans applying for pyschiatric care were denied admission due to lack of beds in the hospital's psychiatric care section. It's hard to believe what else is going to happen.

To end our corner on a more pleasant note (to us anyway) and for our faithful readers...our weekend was spent in T.C. to help our humber two granddaughter Stefany Shay celebrate her 3rd birthtay along with T.J. and mom and dad...

Have a nice weekend...be happy...despite all...

From Calvary Baptist Church

SAVED AND SERVING Isaiah 6:8

"Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me." Isaiah 6:8. Isaiah penned the above words following his vision of God in His holy Temple. Isaiah 6:1-4. With this revelation of God's holiness came an exposure, confession and cleansing of Isaiah's sin. Isaiah 6:5-7. It was following Isaiah's cleansing from sin that he heard the voice of God. Isaiah 6:8.

The voice of God is calling Christians to service today. God has written us His perfect will in the Bible. Many Christians never search the scriptures to know God's Will for their own lives. Isaiah was first impressed with a great vision of

"If you're covered by an Auto-Owners policy, you can relax. Auto-Owners provides protection automatically under its bodily injury and property damage liability coverage in 'no-fault' states.

God. Until we see God in His holiness, we cannot begin to see our own sinfulness. Until we are willing to do something about our own sinfulness, we are not fit instruments for God's ser-

The first communication of the voice of God reminds us of God's Sovereignty. "Whom shall I send", reminds us that a sovereign God chooses His own servants. The second part of this verse reminds us that man has a responsibility to a sovereign God, "and who will go for us?" It is a master picture of the divine/human cooperative as we observe the "I send" and the "Who will" being the same person.

The first reaction of Isaiah reveals his willingness to be used of God, "Then said I, Here am I; send me." This is a beautiful statement of perfect submission to the sovereign will of God. He acknowledges his willingness to serve with the words, "here am I." He acknowledges God's sovereign control over His ministry by the words, "Send me." It is God who does the sending according to His sovereign plan and pur-

Isaiah went forth to preach to a people who did not understand or perceive his message. Isaiah 6:9. Isaiah was sent to preach to a people who ignored him by indifference. Isaiah was ordered to preach to this people until their cities and homes were destroyed. Isaiah Gill. The United States of America seems like the kind of ministry today. Homes in our society are being destroyed by sin at a rate unheard of a generation ago. The recent destruction at Miami may be a sample of future problems in American cities.

The voice of God is still calling, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? The number is still small which will respond, "Here am I; send me." God, Country and Family call! What is your response???

News of Good Things Growing...

Thoughts of "good things growing in Michigan" develop images of bountiful fields and orchards awaiting harvest. There are other agriculture industries not quite as visible but equally important for good health and meal preparation, including the dairy industry.

Milk is the largest single item sold from Michigan farms, accounting for about a quarter of farmers' cash receipts. An estimated 4,793 million pounds of milk was produced in 1978 (latest figures available), according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Dairy cows can now produce 72 glasses of milk daily, 300 days of the year. Americans consume an average 288.9 pounds of milk and cream each yearthe largest per capita consumption of any food commodity.

Michigan dairies also produced 28.5 million pounds of butter, 53.6 million pounds of cottage cheese, 32 million pounds of natural cheese and 34.9 million gallons of ice cream in

The dairy industry has come a long way since the days of milking cows by hand and sitting on the porch all day churning butter!

Modern milking is done in sanitary milking parlors with machines. The milk is then transported through tubes connected to the milking machines to a bulk holding tank for pick up. Trained MDA inspectors check milking parlors and all milk house equipment for sanitation. Only farms issued a state permit with sanitation approval may supply Grade A milk to dairies.

Retail butter must be manufactured in a commercial creamery and be at least 80 percent milk fat, with no added ingredients except salt or coloring as state and federal standards require. If coloring is added, this must be shown on the label. Michigan has 15 natural cheese factories, where many of the more than 400 varieties of cheese are produced, including cheddar, Colby, Monterey, Italian, Muenster, brick, cream and farmer cheeses.

Food Stamp Program Running out of Funds

The federal food stamp program will be eliminated June 1 if Congress does not act to raise or eliminate the spending ceiling for the program.

More than 40,000 poor and elderly people in Northern Michigan rely on food stamps to feed their families. The Michigan Department of Social Services has verified that the program will be stopped on June 1 if additional funding is not authorized. The food stamp program is not very popular with a lot of people. It certainly needs reform. As with a lot of welfare programs there is a great deal of abuse that goes on in the food stamp program. There are some alternative programs being discussed in Congress that seem to have a lot of merit. One in particular, the workfare program, would require all able-bodied people to work before qualifying for assistan-

The original ceiling for this year's food stamp program was set at $6.2 billion. Legislation has already passed the Senate which would eliminate the ceiling on the program entirely. The House Agriculture Committee has reported legislation which would raise the ceiling, and allow an additional percentage increase if neccessary. I predict that some sort of legislation will be passed, and the program will not be allowed to expire.

Despite the bad reputation our welfare system has, the majority of recipient are truly needy people who could not survive without assistance.

moving equipment. Two board members even flew in to help.

Monroe Fair officials, who call their annual event "Michigan's Finest County Fair," attracting 140,000 visitors each year, said Little Smokey will be used to convey visitors to and from the 3000-car parking lot and the 85-acre fair grounds, located 260 miles to the south of here.

Forty-two tons of track were dismantled and moved out, plus all the 4" x 4" x 4' ties that carried the Little Smokey crew and her passengers, as many as 75 in all, on the scenic 1½ mile trek through Hanson Hills. The attraction closed two years ago when the Barkleys moved from Grayling. Prior to that the business had become vulnerable during the controversy that swept through the park several years ago over the right of profit-making enterprises to conduct business on state-owned property. The clash signaled an end to the popularity of Hanson Hills, or Bear Mountain, as businesses located there began to wither and die. But Little Smokey continued to operate after many of the others had folded.

But the "coup de grace" came not long ago when Ski & Shore Realty concluded the terms of the sale, paving the way for fair workers to plan and carry out its move to Monroe County.

For many, Little Smokey's departure carrys with it fond memories of those days when the park was a beehive of community activity and tourism in Crawford County.

But now only memories of Little Smokey linger on, leaving only Bear Museum to attract tourists to the site. And even its future here remains shrouded in uncertainty...

Alumni News

This week we recognize our retiring teachers...three of our most respected personnel. Art Thayer has been Teacher, Coach, Principal for High School, Middle School, Elementary School, Jean Peterson Gothro, '35, has taught High School and Elementary, Bill Kinkerter, '50, has taught Business at our High School and briefly at Frederic High School. We wish a happy retirement for them.

I have an interesting item from Ernest Larson, '26, concerning his grandson. Vern J. Essenberg, a Senior at Traverse City High School was voted "Best All Around Good Citizen", by his classmates (a class of 800). He is going on to Hope College in Pre-Med. This is another coincidence, as it parallels our R.O. Milnes Award for 1980. Vern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Essenberg (nee Judy Larson, '58).

Here is an interesting Bumper Sticker, "If You Can Read This...Thank A Teacher".

As always, we congratulate the Senior Class-this year numbers 140 future members of our G.H.S. Alumni. This is a special class that has the largest percentage of graduates going on to higher education. Clara Sorenson

Sixteen students from Grayling High School's Spanish Department will be flying to Mexico on Tuesday, June 10, for a week's visit. The students, who are busy earning spending money for the trip through various fund-raising projects, include: Brenda Carlson, Carolyn Cornell, Phyllis Faustman, Rich Grant, Pat Hickey, Rob Holzman, Robyn Jorgenson, Shelley Kammer, Matt Keir, Nate Kolb, Patti Lange, Mike Petrie, Lisa Sajdak, Sue Shively, Jane Stamm and Yvonne Steffes.

They will be accompanied on their trip by Nancy Lemmen, of the G.H.S. Spanish Department; Joanne Ferguson, secretary at the high school, and Janice Kammer, parent of one of the students.

While in Mexico, the group will tour three cities; Mexico City, capitol of the country; Taxco, a colonial silvermining town in the mountains; and Acapulco, a famous resort spot.

In the week to come, the students will be holding a raffle to augment their funds. They'll be knocking on doors to sell raffle tickets at 50 cents apiece (or three for a dollar), for the following prizes:

$25 from Louise's Dance Studio; pocket calculator from Ronald Kea; Everready flashlight from R & H Sports; case of Amoco motor oil and an Amoco toy truck from C.F. Fick and Sons; $5 coupon book from Mc-Donald's of Grayling; $5 gift certificate from Mac's Drug Store; Whitman's Sampler from Dawson's, Sunbeam hot dog steamer from Pro Mart Home Center; 1 gallon of honey from Richard and Janice Kammer; swim and sauna package from the Roost Motel; permanent from Joan's Beauty Shop (Joan Cornell); hanging planter from Holiday Inn; 2 pizzas from Little Caesar's; and a hand-made basket from Cathy Hickey.

The Spanish Department thanks these local businesses and individuals for their generous donations.

The students also gratefully acknowledge the assistance of the following parents who have helped them financially: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grant, for potato chips, and Mr. Ray Lange, for candy-both of which were sold at the baseball concessions; Mrs. Nancy Steffes, for the use of her home for the garage sale; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holzman, for their help in the car wash.

The group appreciates the assistance of Grayling State Bank, in acquiring Mexican currency: and Northern National Bank, in allowing members purchase travelers' checks at a discounted rate. Also the A & P store, for its Donation Day program; and Glen's Market, for its Save-Share program.

Finally, the group would like to thank all the people of Grayling who supported the various fund-raising projects. Everyone's help is greatly appre-

The Cuban Refugee Rush It seems that everyone is concerned about the number of Cuban refugees who are pouring into our country. The situation is becoming a major problem-and it's threatening to get a whole lot worse. Up to 100,000 refugees are now in the United States and, in my opinion, something has to be done. I would suggest at the very least a temporary stop to the influx. This country needs time to reassess its refugee policy before the Cubans overwhelm us.

If a person from a Communist country wants to flee to a democratic nation, I feel he should have every opportunity to do so. But for the United States to bear the entire burden of that inflow is just too much for our country to handle at this time.

And it surely can be a burden. Consider the Cubans. They will naturally need jobs, which isn't good news for a nation like ours with its chronic unemployment problems. The refugees will' need education, and many already have health problems. And what about the criminals and mental patients who were mixed in with the immigrants?

I'm dissappointed that the United Nations has not taken a more active role. If all the free countries of the world would agree to take in a certain percentage of the refugees, everyone would be better off. Surveys show that a plurality of Americans would prefer that no more refugees be allowed in the U.S. One poll says that 59% feel that the immigration of Cubans is bad for America. But I'm sure that that opinion would change if the whole problem was proportionately shared by the rest of the free world.

We must stop the flow temporarily, arrange for a United Nations takeover, and then solve this problem rationally,

Dear Friends,

After a bout of being sick with something like amoebic dysentary, weeks of hot (sometimes over 100°F) and dusty traveling culminating in a series of incredible and unforgetable frustrations on Indian railroads, I have happened upon a beautiful, peaceful and special place to stop, rest and reflect.

Presently I'm in Mussoorie, Northern India at a private school called Woodstock set in the Himalayan mountains in what is known as a hill station. Spread out before me to the south, as far as the eye can see, are the northern Indian plains while to the north over the ridge can be seen the snow peaks of the Himalayan/Tibetan dividing ranges. In between are cool. forested ridges dotted with small villages and stately old former British retreats dating back to the days of the British raj some of which, like Woodstock, have been into private school. Here, again fortunately through friends of friends, I was directed and in the quiet and cool solitude of the forests can look back and catch my breath from a pretty hectic month of Asian travel.

I left Burma in the first part of April after sending my last report home, aboard a commercial flight to Kathmandu, Nepal. The flight would have been pretty non-descript except for the fact that one of our fellow passengers was the Soviet deputy foreign minister accompanied by aides and no doubt some KGB bodyguards. Our arrival in Kathmandu was complete with a string of dignitaries and soldiers so I decided to wave as I walked down the ramp too! I imagine that the foreign minister was in Burma and Nepal to try and explain the Afghani "invitation" to invade Afghanistan.

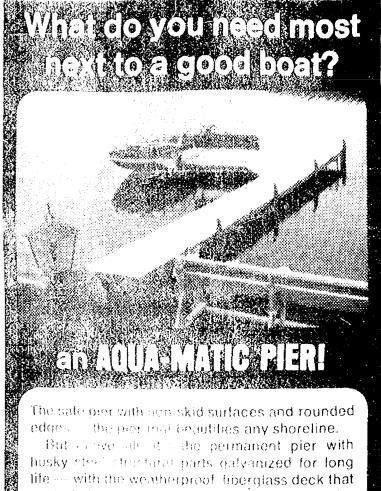

Arriving in Kathmandu, I found an ancient city with lots of character (and characters) buildings and temples, centuries old, of every size and description, and lots of shops with a wealth of attractions for the souvenir hunter. Unfortunately, there were all too many people, carts, rickshaws, crowded into narrow dirty streets with the stench so bad you were hard pressed to find a breath of fresh air. A bright spot, however, was my coincidental rendezvous with a friend I had met in Australia and with whom I was planning to do some trekking in the mountains. We had made plans months earlier in Australia and met as we were checking for mail at the post of-

We headed off to Pokara from where we could begin a trek to the mountains but after arriving I realized that my diarrhea, loss of appetite and energy and close to 301 lbs. since beginning my trip should be attended to first. A trip to the hospital and a chat with the doctors determined that I had something close to amoebic dysentary. I began the treatment and with trekking now out of the question I decided to quit Nepal and move rather quickly towards India. Furthermore, the pre-monsoon haze had already begun to obstruct the spectacular views of mountains which I had especially hoped to photograph.

Frye Seeking Re-election To K.C.C. Trustee Board

George R. Frye of Roscommon will seek his second elected term on the Kirtland Community College Board of Trustees in the upcoming annual School Election scheduled for next Monday.

Frye, who has thirty years executive experience with Eaton Corporation, was appointed to the board in 1975 and was elected to a full four-year term in 1976. He has a Mechanical Engineering Degree from Purdue University, taught at the University of Pittsburg and was discharged with the rank of major from the U.S. Army after serving four years with the 88th Infantry Division Artillery.

Frye had this to say regarding his re-election bid: "My involvement with the Michigan Community College Association (as Kirtland's trustee representative to this board) has been time consuming but most rewarding and I am now serving on the executive committee of that organization. If I am re-elected to the Kirtland Board, Kirtland is assured of having its first President of the MCCA, as succession to the presidency is practically automatic from membership on the Executive Committee...I am looking forward to continued growth for Kirtland Community College and hope that I may continue to be a part of that growth."

To the Editor: In this day and age when school administrators and local officials are often unjustly criticized for their actions, I feel fortunate to be able to relate to the residents of Crawford County the merits of your school superintendent, Dr. William Died-

As I traveled to Traverse City Saturday to attend a wedding I had the misfortune of having a flat tire. Attired in dress clothes, I attempted to change the tire, without a great amount of success. Dr. Diedrich stopped to help me with the tire even though he too was on his way to a social engagement. There are not a great number of persons who are willing to help stranded motorists, especially when dressed in their best clothes.

I want to take this opportunity to publicly thank Dr. Diedrich. The people of Crawford County are lucky to have such a fine man as the head of their

RECEIVE LIFE-SAVING AWARDS—Michigan State Police Sergeants James Berglund and Michael Nowak, along with Grayling City Patrolman Karl Schreiner, received special life-saving awards last week from Dr. James Robert Howenstine, Director of the State Police Forensics Division, who traveled to Grayling from Lansing to make the presentations. He was accompanied by First Lt. John Versailles, Assistant Division Director.

The three were credited with saving the life of Mrs. Edris Sonrenson of Grayling through the use of the CPR techniques when she was discovered unconscious in her car last November 26th. The incident occurred in the parking lot of Grayling City Hall.

Mrs. Sorenson later underwent surgery in Traverse City for insertion of a heart pacemaker, returned home to Grayling and is reportedly doing fine.

track team. Last Wednesday the Grayling Middle School Girl's Track Team traveled to the prestigious West Branch Junior High Invitational Track Meet, and returned being acknowledged as one of the most powerful middle school girls track teams in Northern Michigan. The team has yet to be defeated this year. Grayling took places in 14 of the 15 events. This is quite a feat considering there was a total of 12 teams competing in the meet. Perhaps the surprise of the meet was the 880 relay team of Gina Medley, Shari Chapin, Stacy Robinson and Wendy Callan, they were not expected to finish higher than 4th, but ended up bringing home the trophy for 1st place in a record breaking time. Also taking a 1st place trophy was the mile relay team of Stacey Wolcott, Karyn Reynolds, Shari Chapin and Heidi Bendig, that to was a school record time. In all, eight school records were broken, and 1 tie (Jean Bitner broke the meet record in the high jump), Stacey Wolcott established the 2 mile record for the meet. The top six teams of the meet were:

Grayling 4-H Leader Dog Club

The Grayling Leader Dog Club began February 3, 1980 under the direction of leader Nancy (Mrs. James) Hatfield, who has already had two successful leader dogs, "Jasper", a golden retriever now in Denmark and a black labrador retriever, "Selene", who is in New Mexico. She is raising another black lab named "Bear" with her 4-H group.

Chris Breitfield, son of Mrs. Breitfield of Grayling, is raising a chocolate labrador retriever named "Duke". Another member of the group is Jeff Cowie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cowie, also of Grayling, who is raising a golden retriever who he named "Shannon".

The puppies are placed with the 4-H members and their families when they are about 8-10 weeks old and are raised by them for approximately one year. During that year the 4-Hers prepare their puppies for their leader dog future.

Some of the things the 4-H members are to teach their dogs are housebreaking, to be well-mannered, to walk on a leash correctly, to overcome any fears the dog may have such as loud noises, and walking in heavy traffic; and the most important thing-to be able to accept everyone as his together as an inseparable friend, as the dog will be the constant companion for his blind master and must be able to cope with the many different situations that will occur. At the end of the year, the 4-H group will take their dogs to the "leader dogs for the Blind" training school in Rochester. There the dogs will be checked over by the school vet to be sure they have strong hips and are in good physical condition. If the dog does have a health problem, he will be rejected right away. The dogs are then taken by the school trainers for a walk to see how the dog handles and if he has any fears or drawbacks. They will walk through heavy traffic and cross streets, walk up and down stairs and walk by noisy machinery. If the dog cannot handle or cope with either of these situations, they will also be rejected.

If the dog passes these first two tests he will enrolled in the school, and will hopefully and successfully complete 4 months of intense training.

During the last 3 weeks the dog will be matched up with a blind student who has also come to the school to train. Finally, if all goes well, the dog and his master will graduate and go home to start their new life School News

The 4-Hers will then be notified by the school of their "leader dogs" location, but only the country or state will be named. The 4-Hers are asked not to try to contact their dog's new owner as he has now begun a new life and future of his own.

The 4-Hers, however, do receive a picture of the dog and his new master on their graduation day. They will always have those memories and that light clothes at night. special feeling of knowing they raised a leader dog for the blind-the eyes for some special person somewhere in the world.

Anyone interested in raising a leader dog or in donating puppies for this program, are asked to call Mrs. Hatfield at 348-9769 after 5:30 p.m. Interested persons can call Mrs. Hatfield or Mr. Don Hale, 348-5524 or Mr. Jim Kolka, 348-9527, or members of the Grayling Lions Club.

Navy Fire Control Technician 2nd Class Mark N. Post, son of Douglas and Hazel Post of Grayling, recently participated in exercise "Dawn Patrol 80" in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile trigate USS Talbot homeported in Mayport,

More than 70 ships and 200 aircraft from Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the U.S. participated in the two-week exercise. It was designed to promote improved coordination and cooperation of multinational forces, and to demonstrate NATO's readiness to deter agression along its southern flank.

The Talbot is 414 feet long and carries a crew of 241. It is equipped with guns, missiles and anti-submarine rockets and torpedoes.

Randy Laundre, switchperson for General Telephone at Grayling Skyline, recently completed a course in Digital Electronic Systems Fundamentals at the company's training center in Muskegon, according to Lois Reagan, northern division manager.

The course prepares students for more advanced training in the field of digital electronic switching. Students interpret computer programs, define the subsystems of a computer and learn to locate malfunctions in "logic" circuits.

Mr. Laundre resides in Grayling with his wife and family.

Primary deserves close, hard look

RICHARD MILLIMAN

NOW THAT the hoopla is past and the votes have been counted, it's obvious that political decision-makers in Michigan must take a long, hard look at Michigan's presidential primary system.

The primary is just not working the way is should.

Look at this year, for example. Michigan Democrats didn't use the primary system at all. Instead, they opted for their own private caucus system to select delegates to the national nominating convention, turning the statewide presidential primary into something it wasn't intended to be at all-a strictly one-party preferential vote. Eight years ago, the primary results were skewered, too. That's when George Wallace came out as the choice of Michigan Democrats, thoroughly embarrassing regular party leaders and giving a false shading to what was really going on in Michigan Democratic circles.

OF COURSE, the 1972 Democratic vote for Wallace was heavily Republican, according to most Democratic leaders; that means many Republicans decided to vote Democrat instead, either (a) expressing a real choice for George Wallace, or (b) seeking to embarrass the Michigan Democratic hierarchy.

This year, Michigan Democrats were free to return the favor. With their party selections made in advance, Michigan Democrats could wreak whatever havoc they chose in the Republican part of the Republican candidates George Bush and Ronald Reagan were openly courting Democratic cross-over votes, hoping to (a) whip the other one, and (b) indicate their own broad, citizen appeal.

THEN THERE'S the question of how the candidates get on or off the ballot. The 1980 presidential primary ballots in Michigan were ridiculous.

For example, John Anderson-who is no longer in the Republican race—was listed as one of the Republican candidates. He made his shift to independent status too late to change the details, the courts ruled, so Anderson was one of the "Republican candidates" when really he wasn't at all.

Then there was the Democratic side of the ballot. The only two real live candidates for the Democratic nomination at the time were President Carter and Sen. Kennedy, yet neither was listed as a candidate; they asked off so the party's closed-caucus system would have some legitimacy.

But who was on the official Democratic ballot? California's Gov. Jerry Brown, who was but isn't a candidate, and a guy named Lyndon LaRouche, Jr., who is but shouldn't be a candidate.

WHAT A SYSTEM; the primary has been twisted and distorted through circumstances so that the results, for both parties, have relatively little meaning if any at all.

This year, estimates of cost of the statewide primary ran to $4 million: Democrats, incidentally, spent about $50,000 for their caucus system, according to Libby Maynard, state party chairman.

The primary is too expensive a plaything to keep around unless it means something. About the only ones who got anything meaningful out of the Michigan primary system this year were the radio and television ad departments (note that not many Bush-Reagan ads ran in newspapers for some reason) and others who have wares to peddle in or near the campaigning process.

Before the next presidential year rolls around, Michigan should seriously think about scrapping the whole idea of a presidential primary. No primary at all would be better than the way it's done now.

National Reye's Syndrome Foundation

Article 5 Lillian Wolf-Director

In this my 5th article on Reye's, I want to mention a couple of things not to do. First, again-DO NOT PANIC. The next information concerns itself with medicines not to be given a child if RS is suspected.

Do not, under any circumstances give a child who is vomiting any anti-nausea medications, i.e., shots, pills, capsules, or suppositories to stop the vomiting.

The Food and Drug Administration has issued a warning to physicians to this effect. stating these drugs are strongly suspect in increasing the severity of RS and the benefits for children who merely have ordinary "stomach flu" are not great enough to balance the

There are some physicians who are not yet aware of this FDA warning and should your physician wish to administer anti-emetics to your child, you do have the right to refuse such treatment if you wish. Heavy doses of aspirin and other aspirin substitutes are also somewhat suspect, so use with extreme caution and only with the advice of your doctor.

As previously mentioned, be sure that the necessary blood tests are given so RS can be ruled out before treatment is started. Reye's can be easily mistaken for encephalitis, meningitis, diabetes, poisoning, hepatitis, and many times in teens, as a drug overdose.

Next week will be my last article and will talk about what we can all do as concerned parents to combat Reye's Syndrome.

A Friend At Headquarters

Law and Order. Lately we've been making those words sound grim. Because we've all been painfully aware of moral deterioration in our society.

Actually Law is a friendly word. It connotes a sense of community in which each is willing to adapt his behavior to the common good of all.

And Order is a happy word. It represents millions of responsible people enioving that common good.

Respect for Law and the desire for Order must be gained in childhood. Having a "friend at headquarters" helps.

But the heart of the matter is our early discovery of God. His love for us . . . His expectations of us . . . the hopes and promises that give life its highest meaning.

Headquarters for moral and spiritual growth is the Church, with its program of religious education. There can be found our most enriching friendships.

Mid-Mitten Chapter met at the Gerrish Township Municipal Building Wednesday, May 28th, to hold their Installation for the new year. After a delicious pot luck dinner was enjoyed, the program began. Ruth Jacobs wrote the Installation Ceremony and Paula Fuller was the Installing Officer. Using the mitten of our name as a theme, the fingers represented the officers, the palm of the mitten the remaining board members, and the arm was the chorus members.

The Officers installed were Bey Decess, President; Sharon Huss, Vice President; Leslie Gandolfi, Corresponding Secretary; Gail Gardner, Recording Secretary; and Mary Ann Eckerly, Treasurer. When all the candles were lit, the chorus closed the ceremony singing "You Light Up My Life", which was arranged by June Haines.

After the ceremonies a special kind of style show entertained the group. Taking old costumes the models came up with some new costumes with special accessories to complete the ensemble. These accessories ranged from plumber's plungers to plastic boats. It became a little too realistic when water was tossed on a model to make a wet suit more realistic!

Guests for the evening were Nancy Young and Karen Gardner. The June 4th rehearsal will be held at the Roscommon High School Choral Room.
